अध्यापन एक आनंददायक प्रवृत्ति एवम् साहस है। साहस प्रवृत्ति की सफलता संस्कृत भाषा के स्वरूप एवम् उसके महत्व की समझ पर अवलंबित है। शिक्षण के विषय में संस्कृत भाषा, गुजराती, अंग्रेजी, गणित, विज्ञान, इतिहास, चित्रकला इत्यादि विषय में भिन्नता है। संस्कृत के सफल अध्यापन के लिए संस्कृत का महत्व समझना जरूरी है।।

यो न वेति यस्य गुणप्रकर्षम्
स तं सदा निन्दति ऋत्र चित्रम्
यथा किराती करिकुम्भजाताम्
मुक्तां परितण्य बिभाति गुञ्जाम् ॥

अर्थात्

जिस तरह हाथी गंडस्थल में से जन्मीत मोती को छोड़कर चणोठी को धारण करता है। उस तरह जो संस्कृत गुण की महता नहीं जानता वह सदा उसकी निंदा पात्र है।

संस्कृत भाषा का शब्दभंडोल विपुल है। अनेकार्थी शब्द संस्कृत में मिलते हैं। इस तरह संस्कृत शिक्षण अत्यंत जरूरी है। उसके साथ प्रवृत्तियाँ भी यथायोग्य होनी चाहिए। प्रवृत्ति शिक्षण का आत्मा है। प्रवृत्तिहीन शिक्षण आत्माहीन शरीर जैसा है। प्रवृत्ति के प्रयोगीकरण से ही विद्यार्थियों की भीतरी शक्ति को विकासशील बना सकते हैं। शिक्षण के अनुसंधान प्रवृत्ति देने से छात्रों के शरीर, मन, आत्मा का सर्वांगी विकास होता है। अगर यह शक्तियों को बाहर आने का अवकाश न मिले तो वह शक्ति कुंठित बन जाती है। और छात्र निष्क्रिय हो जाता है।

संस्कृत शिक्षण में दो प्रकार की प्रवृत्तियाँ

(1) वर्ग शिक्षण सभ्य में होनेवाली प्रवृत्तियाँ

(2) वर्गेतर प्रवृत्तियाँ

➤ शिक्षण समय में होनेवाली प्रवृत्तियाँ

वर्गशिक्षण के समय में होनेवाली प्रवृत्तियाँ यानि की संस्कृत शिक्षक वर्गखंड में शिक्षण - अध्यापन को बढ़ाने एवम् पोषक तथा प्रेरणा देनेवाली प्रवृत्तियों जो वर्गखंड में की जाये उसको वर्गशिक्षण समय में होनेवाली प्रवृत्तियाँ कहते हैं।

(१) अनुलेखन (Transcription)

छात्रों में लेखन कौशल्य को विकसित करने के लिए अनुलेखन की प्रवृत्ति भी पढ़ाने के साथ आवश्यक है। संस्कृत भाषा देवनागरी लिपि में लिखी जाती है। यह भाषा में एक निश्चित प्रारूप में लिखने वाली लिपि है। इस लिए अनुलेखन से विद्यार्थी में निश्चितता एवम् स्वच्छता आती है। इस लिपि का परिचय भी होता है। लिखने का ढाँचा छात्रों को पता चलता है। शिरोरेखा का ज्ञान, अक्षर का कद, जोड़णी, विरामचिह्न का ज्ञान मिलता है। साथ-साथ संधियुक्त अक्षर, हलन्त अनुनासिक और अवग्रह किस तरह लिखे जाते हैं उसका परिचय मिलता है। उससे छात्रों में श्लोकान्ते एक दंड किया जाता है अनुकार्य दौरान लेखन की वर्ग समक्ष चर्चा-सामान्य एवम् विशिष्ट भूलों का समक्ष छात्रों का केन्द्रीकरण, वर्णमाला लिखने की सूचि, शब्द-शब्द के बीच योग्य अंतर के सुझाव, संपूर्ण शुद्ध और सुवाच्य लेखन की वर्ग समक्ष प्रशंसा करने से दूसरे छात्रों को योग्य प्रेरणा एवम् प्रेरणा मिलती है।

(२) श्रुतलेखन (Dictation)

श्रुत यानि सुनना शिक्षक गद्य या पद्य को धीरे-धीरे पढ़न और विद्यार्थी यह सुनकर श्रुतलेखन करे तो लाभ अवश्य हो सकता है। श्रुतलेखन अध्यापक को सब विद्यार्थी सुन सके उस जगह खड़े होके शब्दलय का पूरी तरह से पालन करके स्पष्ट अवतरण के साथ परिच्छेद की सूचि देनी चाहिए हलन्त और अनुनासिकका उच्चारण स्पष्ट होना चाहिए संधियुक्त शब्द या संयुक्ताक्षरों की सूचि विरामचिह्नो की सूचना देनी चाहिए जिसे श्रवण-लेखन कौशल्य का विकास हो सके और सुनकर विद्यार्थी कितना लिख सके वह हमें पता चलता है। लिखने की गति एवम् शब्दों का सुवाच्य का पता लग सके। लेखनकार्य से छात्रों का मापदंड और भाषाक्षमता का मूल्यांकन हो सकता है।

(३) मुखपाठ (Memorization)

मुखपाठ यानि जोर से पढ़कर उसको मौलिक - कंठस्थ करना। मुखपाठ का शिक्षण हमारा प्राचीन प्रणालीका शिक्षण है। संस्कृत रूपाख्यानों, सूत्रों और सुभाषितों को

मुखपाठ द्वारा कंठस्थ किया जाता है। मुखपाठ की परंपरा से ही हमें वेद, रामायण, महाभारत, स्तुति, प्रार्थना वेदों की सुचारु मिली है। विविध प्रकार की स्पर्धा जैसे श्लोक - सुभाषित - छंद और लय का समग्र परिचय देना चाहिए। यह मुखपाठ के परंपरा छात्रों का स्मृति का मूल्यांकन का साधन है। जिसे वक्तव्य और लेखनकार्य ज्यादा मजबूत एवम् असरकारक बनाता है, और ज्ञान में बृद्धि होती है। यह प्रवृत्ति ज्ञानोपार्जन का अमोघ साधन है।

(४) गानः (Recitation) संस्कृत साहित्य ज्यादातर पद्य स्वरूप में मिलता है। पद्य छंदोबद्ध पद्य है। वेद-वेदांग, उपनिषद, महाकाव्य, उर्मिकाव्य, गीतिकाव्य, मुक्तक, सुभाषित रामायण, महाभारत एवम् गीता के प्रत्येक श्लोक में कोई न कोई छंद तो है। एवम् गीता के प्रत्येक श्लोक में कोई न कोई छंद तो है। इसलिए अध्यापन के समय पे छंद का परिचय दिया जाय तो छात्रों को वह श्लोक की समझ मिल सकती है।

आज भी धार्मिक प्रसंग होम-हवनादि, क्रियाकांड की विधी, स्तुति-मंत्र ऋचा गान के माध्यम से ही व्यक्त कराई जाती है। प्राचीनकाल से ही गान संस्कृत शिक्षण का एक विशेष अंग रहा है। इस लिए अध्यापक को जब समय मिले तब छात्रों का समूहगान व्यक्तिगान एवम् टेपरेकोर्ड से छंदों की माहिती देनी चाहिए। गान से कर्णप्रिय लगता है। गान से मन में रहनेवाले दूषित विचारों का शमन होता है। गान हमारा प्राचीन - आध्यात्मिक प्रणाली है।

सांप्रत समय में विविध मनोरंजन गीतों का भी गान संस्कृत में हो रहा है। प्रशंसनीय बात है। जैसे मध्यप्रदेश का पंकज १८-१० साल का इसने "धीरे धीरे से मेरी जिंदगी में यह...." गीत का संस्कृत में शनैः शनैः पोप म्युजिक गाकर सबको आकर्षित किया था। इस तरह आज के समय में यह सब प्रवृत्ति करके हमारे जो प्राचीन पद्धति हैं। उससे युवानों में संस्कृततत्करण की भावनाको उजागर कर सकते हैं। देखें अभी कल दृष्टान्त भी मिलते हैं।

2. वर्गेतर प्रवृत्तियाँ -

वर्गेतर प्रवृत्तियों यानि की वर्गखंड के बहार की संस्कृत शिक्षण का पोषक, विकासशील, प्रेरित करनेवाली प्रवृत्ति यह प्रवृत्तियों संस्कृत माध्यम से दी जाती है। जिस छात्रों को बोलने, सुनने, लिखने का मौका पर्याप्त हो सके इस तरह यह प्रवृत्ति से संस्कृत का विकास और संस्कृत की ओर छात्रों की अभिरुचि को उत्कर्ष करने में सफल रहती है।

(१) भीतपत्रः- (Wall-Paper)

स्कूल-कॉलेज में छात्रों को भाषाकीय, गणन, तर्क और वैज्ञानिक दृष्टिकोण का अभिनिवेश हो इस लिए अलग-अलग भीतपत्र बनाये जाते हैं।

भीतपत्र यानि शाळा-कॉलेज के बुलेटिन बोर्ड पर छात्रों की सहाय से तैयार होने वाला सामयिक या पत्र जो समयान्तरे निर्देशन कर शके उसे भीतपत्र कहते हैं। कॉलेज में विद्यार्थी का सर्वांगी विकास हो उस हेतु से संस्कृत भीतपत्र तैयार करना होता है। इसका समग्र मार्गदर्शन शिक्षक का होता है। समाह में एकबार बोर्ड पे रखा जाता है। उससे ज्यादा लाभ होता है जैसे, छात्रों को लिपि का परिचय मिले, संस्कृत साहित्य, कवि-लेखक का परिचय छात्रों का लेखन -कौशल्य, संपादन कौशल्य को विकसित कर सकते हैं। छात्रों का संस्कृत साहित्य के नूतन विचार भी मिल शके। छात्र संस्कृत साहित्य, सामायिक - संस्कृत न्युज की ओर अभिमुख हो। छात्रों में संस्कृत भाषा का जो खोफ है वो निकल जाए और छात्र में सर्जनशीलता और मौलिकता का विकास हो सके।

(२) बाह्य परीक्षा:- (External Examination)

बाह्य परीक्षा छात्रों संस्कृत की ओर अभिरुचि की पहचान का आधारभूत साधन है। शाळा-कॉलेज के अभ्यासक्रम को आवृत कर लेने में अभी आंतरिक परीक्षा की तरह यह बाह्य परीक्षाएँ भी संस्कृत के विकास के लिए महत्व प्रदान करती हैं।

संस्कृत, अध्यापक चाहे तो उसका ज्ञान छात्र को देकर उनका विकास कर सकते हैं। अलग-अलग पाठशाला सौराष्ट्र विद्वत परिषद जामनगर, बृहद गुजरात संस्कृत परीक्षा अमदावाद, काशी, बनारस, संस्कृत और गौरव परीक्षा, संस्कृत भारती इत्यादि जैसी परीक्षा का आयोजन किया जाता है। एक ही कोलेज में २५-३० छात्र संस्कृत वाग् - व्यवहार तैयार हो तो उसको केन्द्र बनाने की मंजूरी भी दी जाती है। यह परीक्षा से संस्कृत की ओर अभिरुचि बढ़ती है। साहित्य की पदवी बी.ए, एम.ए समकक्ष डीग्री भी मिलती है। इससे शिक्षक-कॉलेज-विद्यार्थी को गौरवान्वित कर सकते हैं। संस्कृत भाषा-साहित्य के कार्य भी बढ़ें।

(३) व्याख्यान श्रवण:- (Listening of Lectures)

‘स्वाध्याय प्रवचनाभ्यां मा प्रमदितव्यम्’ - सूत्र के अनुसार विद्यार्थी को स्वाध्याय एवम् प्रवचन श्रवण में आलसी नहि बनना चाहिए वो ही अच्छा प्रवक्ता बन सकता है जो अच्छी तरह से सुने।

व्याख्यान श्रवण के द्वारा विद्वान व्यक्ति के ज्ञान का लाभ थोड़े समय में हमें मिल सकती है। कितनी बार यह ज्ञान मिलने में हमें वर्षों लग जागे हैं। वह माहिती ज्ञान हमें विद्वान से उसके व्याख्यान से मिलता है। इस लिए संस्कृत अध्यापक को हो शके तो खुद

की कॉलेज में संस्कृत विद्वान पंडित और संस्कृत प्रेमी -ज्ञानी पुरुषो का व्याख्यान करना चाहिए । जिसे नये वकता का मिलने, सुनने और ज्ञान अर्जित करने का अवसर मिल सके । श्रवण से विषय का ज्ञान- नूतन-अद्यतन - ज्ञान से विद्यार्थी लाभान्वित विषय हो सके । संस्कृत में भी बोल सके, छात्रों की समस्या का समाधान प्रवकता की अभिव्यक्ति, प्रस्तुति, कथनशैली, उसका व्यक्तित्व और जिस प्रभुत्व को पहचान सके । नयी दिशा में काम कर सके और दूसरों के प्रेरणा दे सके ।

(४) संस्कृत समाचार श्रवण (Sanskrit News)

संस्कृत समाचार श्रवण संस्कृत भाषा के विकास के लिए महत्व का साधन है । अध्यापक स्वयं रेडियो टी.वी. ओनलाईन प्रसारित संस्कृत समाचार का हरपल पठन करना चाहिए, सुनना चाहिए, जिसे समाचार श्रवण की आदत मजबूत हो सके । संस्कृत उच्चारण, भाव, भय का पता चलता है । श्रवण के द्वारा संस्कृत में बोलने का महावरा मिल सके । संस्कृत भाषा की मधुरता एवम् श्राव्यता का ख्याल आ सके । देववाणी की ओर अभिरुचि उत्पन्न हो सके। संस्कृतभाषा की मधुरणालक्षी प्रवृत्ति भी हो सके । आदर्श वाचन, महत्व के शब्दों - चिहनों की पहचान, शिरोरेखा, अनुनाशिक, अवग्रह, विसर्ग का भी ख्याल आये । साथ साथ आज के युग में संस्कृत भाषा की ओर का अभिगम बदलता दिखाई दे रहा है । जिस तरह संस्कृत समाह रखने से छात्रों में रुचि पैदा होती है । संस्कृत भारती जैसे विविध संस्थान ऐसे छात्रों की प्रवृत्ति करते हैं । कॉलेज में संस्कृत के संस्कृत पात्रों की वेशभूषा, वैदिक पात्रों की वेशभूषा जैसी विविध प्रवृत्तियाँ से संस्कृत भाषा में प्राणावरण हो सकता है । हम संस्कृत को जीवित बना सकते हैं । संस्कृत- कृति, कवि-संस्कृत कुल- नाम अन्य चीजवस्तु के नाम संस्कृत में 'एक मिनिट का शॉ' रखकर छात्रों को प्रेरित कर सकते हैं । इस वर्ष अमदावाद परिमल -गार्डन में संस्कृत गरबात्सोव का अच्छा आयोजन किया था । वह प्रशंसनीय था । उसमें विविध नाट्यकृतियाँ, समग्र वातावरण संस्कृतमय बनाने का प्रयास तथा संस्कृत विद्वानों को पुरस्कृत करके दूसरों को प्रेरणा मिल सके । गुजरात के दो परिवार घर में अगर संस्कृत में आपस में वादवीत करते हैं तो ऐसे परिवारों के सम्मान किया जाता था । जिसका वर्णन २०१६ में संस्कृत उत्सव अहमदाबाद में किया गया था। संस्कृत on line शिक्षण, पिकीपीडियाका भी ज्ञान देना चाहिए।

इस तरह आज के सांप्रत युग में संस्कृत के उत्थान के लिए विविध प्रवृत्तियाँ करनी होंगी जिसे हमें फायदा होता है और समाज-राष्ट्रका उत्थान कर सके । और दायर विद्युत्सेवा की अति आकर स्थिति के लिये ज्ञान से एक नयी दिशा का आह्वान कर सकते हैं।

This study was conducted on 50 trainees from Anand College of Education, Anand. Throughout this process, trainees firstly are applied a pre-test to examine their level and to confirm whether there is Consistency between experimental and control groups. The findings on the pre-test results of the trainees do not give meaningful results; And study, especially the instructional process of grammatical compositions. At the end of the instruction process, a post-test is applied to students to assess whether progress between pre- and post-test results are meaningful or not. TBLT will significantly increase the experimental trainees' grammar knowledge. Task-based language teaching in grammar teaching provides meaningful results compared to the traditional language teaching method of this study.

Needs of Quality Improvement in Modern Education System

Anand.

Abstract

The economic growth of a nation depends greatly on the improvement in education. Human development to a great extent depends on the improvement in Education. Among various levels of education, higher education has a pervasive and influential impact on development.

Higher education empowers the individual with necessary skills and competence for achieving important personal and social goals and thereby contributing to the social development. It is widely believed that the state of higher education in a country is an index of its future well-being. Education scenario in India is fast changing. In developing countries like ours, government is finding itself incapable to bear the responsibility of higher education as it is already facing acute dearth of resources. Universities and colleges are starved of funds as the support of Govt. is being reduced and grants are not being provided in time causing hardship to them. One of the easier options to overcome the financial crisis in the educational sector is to start self-financing courses. But this alternative is possible only for courses with high demand. Secondly, these courses further strengthen the numerous entry barriers to higher education existing already. Thirdly, the scope for self-financing educational institutions in Kerala is much more limited than for the country as a whole. Fourthly, these institutions cannot evolve as centers of excellence. But, however privatization of higher-level education especially in the field of professional and technical education like Medical, Engineering, Information Technology, Computer, Management, Teacher Education etc. has already commenced.

Needs of Quality Improvement in Modern Education System

Dr. Bijalben R Mistry
Assistant Professor
Anand education college,
Anand.

Introduction

UNESCO Commission on Education in the year 1972 declared that education is a life long process and its purpose is to establish a learning society – a society which knows how to learn, to grow and transform itself to the needs of ever changing world. Swami Vivekananda said that “Education is not the amount of information that is put into your brain. If you have assimilated five ideas and made them your life and character, you have more education than any man who has got by heart a whole library”. This paper attempts to highlight the views to improve the present education system, especially in quality aspects. New Definition: “Education is a multiple learning lifetime process of gaining knowledge from parents, teachers, friends and neighbours, books and journals, movies, Television channels and internets as well as from experiences and exposures to different environs. Any kind of learning of an individual beneficial to mankind and nature is under the scope of education”. The knowledge equips everyone to suit for the changing world and also to modify the societal conditions to realize his own goals.

What is Quality in Education?

The 21st century knowledge driven society has “Quality” as its defining element, in the same way as “Tradition defined the ancient society, “Religion’ defined society in the Middle Ages and ‘Reason” was the defining element of the 19th century modern society. Defining quality on education is difficult. Like freedom and justice, quality in education can be experienced, but cannot be defined. But, instead of philosophically stating, the quality parameters have been prescribed and the institutions of higher education are rated on the basis of their performance related to the quality parameters like examination results, students’ employment after graduation, reputation of the institution based on external reports and so on. Though there may be different degrees or grades in quality, broadly it could, mean that quality is the difference between the average and the excellent. It is the difference between failure and success. Ensuring that all get the same kind of education ensures equity; using the right methodology ensures quality”.

Quality in Higher Education

World over several definitions have been put forth on “quality in higher education”. Quality is seen as a relative concept satisfying priorities of different interest groups of beneficiaries. These beneficiaries are students, teachers, technical and administrative staff, parents, would –be employees, funding agencies and the society. In a manufacturing industry the input (the product) are pre-determined and the user needs to be assured of the quality of the product. However, in education, every element –the input, the process, and the output- is a human being and cannot, therefore, be dealt with such a simplistic approach. Ellis states that quality itself is a somewhat ambiguous term (in higher education) since it has connotations of both standards and excellence. Most of the debates on quality end with synonymy between "Quality" and "Excellence". There is also a notion of quality as conformation to a standard or specification. Can Quality of education be measured? With quality being associated with a number of characteristics, many of which cannot be measured objectively, the task of judging the quality of education is highly complicated undertaking. Yet, it is definitely possible to distinguish good quality from bad quality and as is being already done in some western countries, quality in higher education can be measured in terms of certain parameters or performance indicators; like examination results, facilities available in the institution, participation in extra-curricular activities, prospects of employment, and higher studies and the like.

How improve quality of higher education?

The next question, and the relevant one to be answered is, How to improve quality of higher education? One of the answers to this question is that concepts adopted in the profit-centered business and industrial organizations can be adopted to improve the standard in educational institutions too. The debated whether the ideas and methods relating to business and industrial or other profitmaking organizations are relevant to educational institutions which are service-oriented and not profit-oriented, is no longer of serious importance, as in several countries, there is a transfer of three industry-based concepts to educational management. It is in this context that the TQM is suggested as a way to improve the quality of education imparted in the centers of higher learning. To sum up,

TQM implies: Serious concern for improving quality "at all levels". Giving utmost importance for the customers' demands, treating the customer as sovereign and trying to satisfy customer fully. Management's total commitment for enhancing the quality of the products. Setting up goals and planning in advance for upgrading quality. Removing the defects in the process of production, and improving the process at all levels. Is TQM Relevant for Education? TQM is applied in business and industry; but it has been recently introduced and experienced in higher education. Many universities and colleges apply Total Quality Management as a tool to enhance the quality of higher education. The concept of quality is accepted by everyone. In a world of ever increasing competition, privatization, and internationalization of higher education, many educational institutions in India and abroad apply TQM principles in education.

TQM in India TQM, as a means for quality enhancement, has not been followed by Indian universities and colleges so far. In our country also, TQM can be adopted by educational institutions, and a beginning may be made with a few universities and colleges. Improving quality in higher education must become a great and existing challenge to all concerned in the coming years, as the quality of education determines the status of the country and TQM is an approach worth meeting that great challenge. Improvement of quality is possible only with a concerted program of action. Quality is never by chance. As John Ruskin most expressly puts it "quality is never an accident, it is always the result of intelligent effort". Various suggestions for improving the quality of higher education are: Increasing the budgetary allocation for education, at least of 6% of the DGP. Improving the basic infrastructural facilities in colleges and universities. Improving the standards of school education. Academic audit of the institutions of higher education. Revising and updating the syllabi in all subjects. A central of TQM is the "Mistakes may be made by people, but most of them are caused, or at least permitted, by faulty systems and processes. This means that the root cause of such mistakes can be identified and eliminated, and repetition can be prevented by changing the process”.

Some Immediate Improvements

Many colleges provide a formidable array of courses, majors and extracurricular opportunities, but firsthand accounts indicate that many undergraduates do not feel that the material conveyed in their readings and lectures has much relevance to their lives. Such sentiments suggest either that the courses do not in fact contribute much to the ultimate goals that colleges claim to value or that instructors are not taking sufficient care to explain the larger aims of their courses and why they should matter. Other studies suggest that many instructors do not teach their courses in ways best calculated to achieve the ends that faculties themselves consider important. For example, one investigator studied samples of the examinations given at elite liberal arts colleges and research universities. Although 99 percent of professors consider critical thinking an “essential” or “very important” goal of a college education, fewer than 20 percent of the exam questions actually tested for this skill.

Now that most faculties have defined the learning objectives of their college and its various departments and programs, it should be possible to review recent examinations to determine whether individual professors, programs and departments are actually designing their courses to achieve those goals. College administrators could also modify their student evaluation forms to ask students whether they believe the stated goals were emphasized in the courses they took. In addition, the average time students devote to studying varies widely among different colleges, and many campuses could require more of their students. Those lacking evidence about the study habits of their undergraduates could inform themselves through confidential surveys that faculties could review and consider steps to encourage greater student effort and improve learning.

The vast difference between how well seniors think they can perform and their actual proficiencies (according to tests of basic skills and employer evaluations) suggests that many colleges are failing to give students an adequate account of their progress. Grade inflation may also contribute to excessive confidence, suggesting a need to work to restore appropriate standards, although that alone is unlikely to solve the problem. Better feedback on student papers and exams will be even more important in order to give undergraduates a more accurate sense of how much progress they've made and what more they need to accomplish before they graduate.

Improving graduate education. Colleges and universities need to reconfigure graduate programs to better prepare aspiring professors for teaching. As late as two or three generations ago, majorities of new Ph.D.s, at least in the better graduate programs, found positions where research was primary, either in major universities, industry or government. Today, however, many Ph.D.s find employment in colleges that are chiefly devoted to teaching or work as adjunct instructors and are not expected to do research.

Aspiring college instructors also need to know much more now in order to teach effectively. A large and increasing body of useful knowledge has accumulated about learning and pedagogy, as well as the design and effectiveness of alternative methods of instruction. Meanwhile, the advent of new technologies has given rise to methods of teaching that require special training. As evidence accumulates about promising ways of engaging students actively, identifying difficulties they are having in learning the material and adjusting teaching methods accordingly, the current gaps in the preparation most graduate students receive become more and more of a handicap.

Universities have already begun to prepare graduate students to teach by giving them opportunities to assist professors in large lecture courses and by creating centers where they can get help to become better instructors. More departments are starting to provide or even require a limited amount of instruction in how to teach. Nevertheless, simply allowing grad students to serve as largely unsupervised teaching assistants, or creating centers where they can receive a brief orientation or a few voluntary sessions on teaching, will not adequately equip them for a career in the classroom.

A more substantial preparation is required and will become ever more necessary as the body of relevant knowledge continues to grow. With all the talk in graduate school circles about preparing doctoral students for jobs outside academe, one has to wonder why departments spend time readying Ph.D. candidates for entirely different careers before they have developed adequate programs for the academic posts that graduate schools are supposed to serve, and that most of their students continue to occupy.

Many departments may fail to provide such instruction because they lack faculty with necessary knowledge, but provosts and deans could enlist competent teachers for such instruction from elsewhere in the university, although they may hesitate to do so, given that graduate education has always been the exclusive domain of the departments. Enterprising donors might consider giving grants to graduate schools or departments willing to make the necessary reforms. If even a few leading universities responded to such an invitation, others would probably follow suit.

Creating a teaching faculty. The seeds of such a change already exist through the proliferation of instructors who are not on the tenure track but are hired on a year-to-year basis or a somewhat longer term to teach basic undergraduate courses. Those adjunct instructors now constitute as much as 70 percent of all college instructors.

The multiplication of such instructors has largely been an ad hoc response to the need to cut costs in order to cope with severe financial pressures resulting from reductions in state support and larger student enrollments. But researchers are discovering that relying on casually hired, part-time teachers can have adverse effects on graduation rates and the quality of instruction. Sooner or later, the present practices seem bound to give way to more satisfactory arrangements.

One plausible outcome would be to create a carefully selected, full-time teaching faculty, the members of which would lack tenure but receive appointments for a significant term of years with enforceable guarantees of academic freedom and adequate notice if their contracts are not renewed. Such instructors would receive opportunities for professional development to become more knowledgeable and proficient as teachers, and they would teach more hours per week than the tenured faculty. In return, they would receive adequate salaries, benefits and facilities and would share in deliberations over educational policy, though not in matters involving research and the appointment and promotion of tenure-track professors.

Rethinking the undergraduate curriculum. The familiar division into fields of concentration, electives and general education leaves too little room for students to pursue all of the objectives that professors themselves deem important for a well-rounded college education. This tripartite structure, with its emphasis on the major and its embrace of distribution requirements and extensive electives, was introduced by research universities and designed more to satisfy the interests of a tenured, research-oriented faculty than to achieve the various aims of a good undergraduate education. The existing structure is unlikely to change so long as decisions about the curriculum remain under the exclusive control of the tenure-track professors who benefit from the status quo. By now, the standard curriculum has become so firmly rooted that during the periodic reviews conducted in most universities, the faculty rarely pause to examine the tripartite division and its effect upon the established goals of undergraduate education. Instead, the practice of reserving up to half of the required number of credits for the major is simply taken for granted along with maintaining a distribution requirement and preserving an ample segment of the curriculum for electives.

The obvious remedy is to include the non-tenure-track instructors who currently make up a majority of the teaching faculty in curricular reviews so that all those who play a substantial part in trying to achieve the goals of undergraduate education can participate in the process. It is anomalous to allow the tenure-track faculty to enjoy exclusive power over the curriculum when they provide such a limited share of the teaching. Such a reform might be difficult under current conditions in many colleges where most undergraduate instructors serve part-time, are often chosen haphazardly and frequently lack either the time or the interest to participate fully in a review of its undergraduate program. If adjunct instructors achieve the status previously described, however, their prominent role in teaching undergraduates should entitle them to a seat at the table to discuss the educational program, including its current structure. Such a move could at least increase the likelihood of a serious discussion of the existing curricular structure to determine whether it truly serves the multiple aims of undergraduate education.

Improve Quality of Education

- Computer aided adaptive testing
- Encourage collaboration among students, teachers, parents, alumni, activists & institutions
- A consistent grading system to measure and rank Students, Teachers, Schools & Universities
- Reward all round development of students
- Promote alternate education & ideas
- Continuous improvement by statistical feedback

Conclusion

The present education system is fully loaded with I.Q. aspects (Intelligence Quotient). To reform present education system E.Q aspects (Emotional Intelligence Quotient) should be incorporated. UGC model curriculum for the subject of emotional intelligence should be prepared and made compulsory subject at college level of Indian Universities so as to improve the quality of education and students. Updating of knowledge of teachers through refresher courses and free access to Internets is a must to improve the quality of present education system. Research can enhance the quality of teaching and to motivate research activities among faculty members of college professorship may be reintroduced at college level.
